

Post Graduate School

Value:

£4,500,000

Client:

London Metropolitan University

Location:

London/South East

Description:

Following a design competition, the London Metropolitan University employed the services of world renowned Architect Daniel Libeskind to design the new Graduate School located on a prominent site on Holloway Road, London. The innovative design described as "three interlocking boxy volumes" on the outside and "successions of interconnecting and overlapping perspectival lines" on the inside has already received critical acclaim. This new build project comprising a reception, 2-3 seminar rooms, a lecture theatre and student breakaway space affords RLF the opportunity to demonstrate the delivery of yet another exciting landmark scheme for the University.
